Famous for its fine quality tea, coffee and cocoa, Whittard of Chelsea started out with one small shop on Fleet Street in London and it is one of Britain's most beloved tea companies. It was founded in 1886 by Mr Walter Whittard, a young man with a great passion to source high quality products from across the globe. His attention to taste is what has formed his success and as we now know as the great tea company Whittard of Chelsea. At Choppy's we value both quality and precision in taste and that is why we chose Whittard of Chelsea. We believe that by providing you with the highest quality products available we can help you to relax and enjoy your cup of warm tea, coffee or cocoa during this cold season.

So why not try out one of Britain's most beloved teas with us: Traditional English Breakfast Tea which is best enjoyed very hot and with a dash of cold milk, or a cup of Earl Grey Tea with a slice of lemon. And if it is to your taste, Assam could be the cup for you, its taste is for those who like a strong tea, but still like the taste of Earl Grey Tea, which Assam is very close to. Or why not try a cup of Darjeeling, which is best enjoyed with a slice of lemon and is considered the champagne in the tea world!?
